INDUSTRIES

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND URBAN REGENERATION

ROME, 4-5 DECEMBER 2015

School of Economics and Business Studies | Via Silvio D’Amico 77
creativeindustries.uniroma3.it | culturalheritage@uniroma3.it
Background

The rise of awareness about the economic significance of creativity in a globalized world has gone hand in hand with the affirmation of the term ‘creative industries’, often used interchangeably to the term ‘cultural industries’.

Culture and creativity are considered key competitiveness drivers in the knowledge-based economy. They account for substantial shares of income and employment in developed countries and offer important opportunities to policy makers to raise local levels of urban quality and social well-being. These strengths are the basis for important potential contributions of cultural and creative industries to the ‘smart’, ‘inclusive’ and ‘sustainable’ growth that are placed at the core of Europe 2020 economic strategy.

The conference aims to promote the debate and the sharing of knowledge and experiences on research, policy and projects focusing on Cultural and Creative Industries.

This is the fourth international event organized by CROMA and the Department of Business Studies, after Heritage and Cityscapes (5-6 October 2012), Sustainable Cultural Heritage Management (11-12 October 2013), Cultural Heritage, Present challenges and future perspectives (21-22 November 2014).

Conference topics

- Historical perspective and methodological issues
- Culture, creativity and the knowledge economy
- Cultural and creative industries and intellectual property rights
- Cultural and creative industries and international trade
- The competitive advantage of place: creative clusters, creative networks; creative milieu
- Culture-led urban regeneration
- Public policies for cultural and creative industries
- The contemporary thinking of culture
