Museo Storico della Didattica “Mauro Laeng” is the oldest Italian Museum regarding the history of school and the social history of Education. It has its home place in the Faculty of Scienze della Formazione at the University of Roma Tre.

Lots and significant documentary acquisitions kept alive and enriched the existing identity of the Museum and determined appreciable extensions of the originary patrimony, oriented to the construction of a memorial place of Education open to a wide public from University students to teachers till experts.

The patrimony of Museo Storico della Didattica is constituted by three main sections: a considerable book holding; an archival section and a sector of objects and iconographies.

The Museum is currently directed by Professor Carlo Felice Casula.

(translation by Dott.ssa Simona Panattoni 2012)